

The Future of the Aboriginal Entrepreneurs and Youth Building a Solid Future

The Aboriginal Edge

The leadership who wants to forge ahead and turn around the economic state of the communities must take advantage and capitalize on the uniqueness of the Aboriginal people by creating a niche market in the arena of Global Trade. This is the Aboriginal edge.

Reverse the Flow Of Money

The youth and the entrepreneurs must be encouraged and motivated to engage in Global Trade. Their present concentration in building enterprises has been in the traditional businesses where their consumers are the members of their own community or at best other Aboriginal people. The market is limited and as such cannot sustain a profitable business. These other businesses rarely do make any money to contribute to the economic well being of the individual and their communities. With the same effort emotional, physical and financial by engaging in Global Trade, after it has been demystified, the economic benefits would be substantial for a start of a truly self sufficiency program. It will reverse the flow of money from the outside of the community to the community. This is the goal of all economic development plans. Prosperity follows. Our programs are designed to accomplish this goal.

The Aboriginal Advantage

The Government of Canada and the provinces have the resources available for aboriginal youths and entrepreneurs, where with a sound plan of action they can take advantage of these programs and catapult their communities into Global Trade. Our program includes sound and effective training and business plans that have been proven over and over again to implement a comprehensive youth and entrepreneurial programs to take advantage of these resources.

Demystifying Global Trade

The mystery of Global trade currently holds back the Aboriginal communities to participate in Global prosperity. As a result, the economic growth of those communities cannot maintain the speed, the intensity and the level that is required for any kind of economic growth. An economic development plan which does not include Global Trade and Inter provincial and/or Inter community trade is an insufficient one and is reflected by a high proportion of unemployment and lack of predictability of economic growth. However, Global trade is as simple as doing business within the community. The only difference being that these trades are done cross International borders. We are sure that the leadership of the aboriginal communities are fully aware of this; that entering into Global Trade is not only an option but is a question of dignified survival leading to the path of prosperity. Our programs are specially designed to make the Homemaker and the Merchant into a global trader. We have Demystified Global Trade and taken the youth and entrepreneurs of the Aboriginal community from the Reserve to the great Trading Halls of China and Hong Kong and established a foundation.

The Programs That Will Build the Foundation

AIBDG brings these powerful programs nationally to all the communities across the country. The programs are to orient and give an in depth understanding and practical application in Global trade to the youth and entrepreneurs of today, in order to rightfully participate in Global Prosperity. This program is specially designed to create within each individual the passion for growth by giving them the power and the tools to be equal players in the Global Market. To take away from their mind set the stereotyped business which has not produced results.

For The Prosperity They Deserve

Delay Is Not Acceptable

Delay is an incurable virus which has poisoned and choked many sincere economic development programs all over the world. It is no different in the Aboriginal communities. The speed of growth and the speed of business is only increasing and will not wait for anyone or any Nation. Economics is unemotional. It is not biased; it will crush those who oppose its flow. And build those and take them to the shores of prosperity, who go with the flow of the Economic Tide. It is time that the Aboriginal community catches this tide. Even one day's delay is not acceptable.
